

Bellville Rodair International's silver jubilee

Bellville Rodair International's Terry Walpole (left), group chief executive, and David Ower (right), MD Europe, were presented with bottles of 1982 vintage wine by their chairman Pat Cullen to mark the company's silver jubilee.

BRI celebrated its anniversary in style with a cruise on the river Thames in which more than 100 key customers and staff took part.

Walpole said: "It's essential to keep building upon our reputation for reliability and to work closely with, as well as listen to, our customers." BRI recorded a turnover of US$108m in 2006, a 20% increase.

It has 225 staff working in countries including Canada, the US, Brazil, China, the UK, the Netherlands, the Czech Republic, Hungary, Romania, Lithuania and Finland.
